NATIONAL RULES OF PROCEDURE

- GUYANA – to date is the only member state whose NCAs has actively sought to develop and implement Rules of Procedure to guide their investigations and adjudication processes
 - ▣ This was done under a project part funded by the Caribbean Development Bank in support of the establishment of the Guyana Competition and Consumer Affairs Commission
 - ▣ The project enlisted an outside legal adviser to draft the Rules of Procedure and this was completed in 2013.
 - ▣ The Rules have never been implemented by the CCAC as there were issues surrounding implementation of the Rules

MULTILATERAL FRAMEWORK ON PROCEDURE (MFP)

- The Multilateral Framework on Procedures (MFP) has been proposed and championed by the US DOJ as an important next step in ensuring procedural fairness during competition enforcement globally. The MFP is suppose to:
 - ▣ Recognize and build on work done by the OECD and International Competition Network (ICN)
 - ▣ Add accountability and review mechanisms
- Text strives to capture truly universal procedural norms that bridge civil and common law traditions and administrative and prosecutorial approaches
- Partnership with leading competition enforcers around the world from a diverse set of countries, legal traditions, and economies

MULTILATERAL FRAMEWORK ON PROCEDURE (MFP)

DOJ - Why the need for a framework on procedures?

- Economies never been more interconnected and competition law enforcement has become more global
 - Over 130 enforcers now active compared
- Good competition law enforcement in this environment demands unprecedented levels of cooperation among competition enforcers
 - Mergers can prompt reviews in dozens of jurisdictions, detection and punishment of international cartels may involve many enforcers
- Effective cooperation requires trust in the processes of fellow enforcers
- A mutual commitment to procedural fairness is fundamental to that trust

MULTILATERAL FRAMEWORK ON PROCEDURE (MFP)

DOJ - Why we need accountability?

- Decades of discussions internationally have made good progress on procedural fairness
- Building mutual trust requires a move from discussion to commitment
- The MFP is a multilateral cooperation agreement
 - Similar to bilateral arrangements in merger review developed at ICN and OECD, enabling broader and deeper cooperation among close partners
 - Expected by ICN framework:

“where the ICN reaches consensus on recommendations arising from a project, it is left to its members to decide whether and how to implement the recommendations, for example, through unilateral, bilateral, or multilateral arrangements.”

MULTILATERAL FRAMEWORK ON PROCEDURE (MFP)

Procedural norms detailed in the MFP cover investigations and enforcement proceedings. The principles include:

- ▣ Non-discrimination
- ▣ Transparency
- ▣ Representation by counsel
- ▣ Timely resolution of investigations and enforcement proceedings
- ▣ Confidentiality
- ▣ Avoidance of conflicts of interest
- ▣ Notice and opportunity to defend
- ▣ Availability of written decisions
- ▣ Opportunity for independent review of decisions

UNIVERSAL PROCEDURAL NORMS

- How did DOJ develop this list of norms?
 - Variety of sources: FTA competition chapters, ICN and OECD, academic work
 - Revised over several months with representative group of leading antitrust agencies from diverse backgrounds
- Draft language on procedural norms is well advanced and ready for comment from broader competition community
 - Focus at this stage is not to compromise on the norms but to contextualize them to different legal traditions and agency approaches

DEVELOPED BY DOJ AND PARTNER AGENCIES

- MFP is intended to be an international partnership, not the initiative of a particular country
- Partnership began with the development of the language on procedural norms with agencies from:
 - Australia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, European Union, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Singapore, UK, and US
- Partnership continues to refine accountability mechanisms
 - Discussions continue on most effective ways of revising MFP language to create accountability and commitment among signatories

IMPLEMENTATION MODALITIES

- Implementation based in partnership among signatories
- MFP is seen as a commitment by competition enforcers to other competition enforcers
- Participation open to any competition enforcer willing to commit to upholding the procedural norms
- Accountability mechanisms in current draft—consultation, reporting, and committee—also based on partnership concept

WHO CAN JOIN?

- ▣ The MFP is designed to be an open instrument welcoming any competition enforcer
- ▣ Only requirement is that the agency be primary enforcer of the relevant competition laws
- ▣ Transparent reservation process makes room for enforcers who may still be developing certain protections or who may be subject to legislation that does not allow for compliance on select issues

MFP IN RELATION TO OTHER INTERNATIONAL FORA

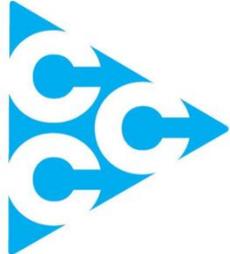

- MFP is designed to be complementary to the work of other competition fora, like OECD and the ICN
- MFP focuses on fundamental norms which differs from aspirational best practices or recommendations
- Focus on fundamental norms and voluntary participation to promote accountability
- MFP expected to advance work of other multilateral organizations
 - Committee discussions provide mechanism to make recommendations for international organizations

LEGAL COMMITMENTS AND NATIONAL IMPLICATIONS OF SIGNING MFP

- Recognizes that different enforcers have different scopes of authority, the MFP has been drafted to cover only commitments within enforcer's control
- Administrative agency may have more control over the procedures used in an enforcement proceeding than a prosecutorial agency
- Each signatory enforcer must evaluate each of the provisions and decide whether it can make that particular commitment
- Where there is a concern, the signatory enforcer may choose to take a reservation or add a declaration clarifying its commitment
- Commitments will be carried out to fullest extent permitted by applicable law

REGULATORY BURDEN OF SIGNING MFP

- ▣ The additional burden is designed to be minimal
- ▣ An initial report will summarize in basic terms the manner in which the signatory enforcer provides for each procedural protection
 - Report is not intended to be lengthy, but rather a roadmap
 - Periodic updates are largely to keep the information from becoming stale
- ▣ Consultations can only be brought by fellow enforcers
- ▣ Committee meetings are not envisioned as separate events, but rather as meetings that can be added to existing multilateral conferences

REVIEW OF THE MFP BY CARICOM COMPETITION NETWORK MEMBERS

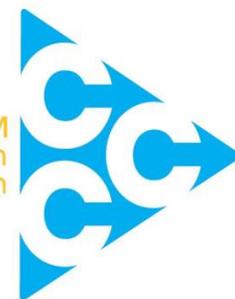

- The matter of the MFP has been a topic of discussion by the CARICOM Competition Network members (JFTC, BFTC, CCAC, TTFTC and CC
- Even if the CCN members do not sign on to the MFP it does provide a starting point for discussion on mutual arrangements for the NCAs and CCC to make progress on development of harmonized procedures as envisaged under Art.173.2(c) of the RTC
